SARATOGA SPECIAL, HRRN, COMBINE TO OFFER NEW SARATOGA TV SHOW

Half hour show to be aired every Saturday and Sunday on Capital OTB

The Saratoga Special and the Horse Racing Radio Network (HRRN) announced Thursday, a joint venture to offer a new television program throughout the upcoming Saratoga meet. The show, titled The Saratoga Special, will air 14 times throughout the meet from 10:00-10:30 a.m. every Saturday and Sunday, beginning July 24, on the Capital OTB Network.

Eclipse Award winning writer and former champion steeplechase jockey, Sean Clancy, co-publisher of the Saratoga Special newspaper, will co-host the show along with HRRN President Mike Penna. Over the past two years, Clancy and Penna have worked together on HRRN's live racing coverage and weekly talk show, the Equine Forum.

The duo view The Saratoga Special Show as an extension of both Clancy's newspaper and Penna's radio shows.

"The Saratoga Special celebrates its 10th season this summer and we are looking forward to bringing the same insight and energy to the television screen as we've done in print," Clancy said. "The show will be an extension of what we've been doing in print and what Mike has been doing on radio. I can promise, it will be fun, informative and different."

"Sean knows horses. He has a tremendous eye for horseflesh and is an outstanding interviewer who really has a knack for asking unique and engaging questions of our guests," said Penna. "Fans and horsemen will enjoy our conversations with the most prominent personalities in the sport."

The Saratoga Special Show is available to more than 300,000 households on the Capital OTB Network and online to Capital Bets account holders on www.captialotb.com.

About Saratoga Special

The Saratoga Special is Saratoga's daily newspaper on Thoroughbred racing. Launched in 2001, The Special covers racing at the country's most historic racetrack from the inside.
